Historical Research on Night by Elie Wiesel

The listing of Websites for the study of Europe in the years between 1941 and 1945 is extensive. This is a partial listing of sites and a short description of each to help guide your search for information.

When researching for your project, remember to:

- check off the sites as you use them
- document your sources for bibliography
- check site for visual aid use
- print information in Lab ONLY with permission

An Historical Perspective of World War II

Encyclopaedia Britannica
<http://www.britannica.com>

This website gives background information on many World War II topics included in your assignment. The information also has an outlined format to allow for targeting certain material.

Central Europe Online
<http://www.centraleurope.com>

European Internet Network provides information on countries including Hungary, Poland, and the Czech Republic. Current issues and cultural information are included.

History Channel
<http://www.historychannel.com>

This site features historical data on World War I, World War II and Adolph Hitler. An extension of the TV channel, the site also promotes products associated with its programming.

History Place
<http://www.historyplace.com>

An outstanding site that features a Timeline of World War II and a unit on Nazi Germany and World War II. Photo journals and noted speeches are also included.

The United States Holocaust Memorial Museum
<http://www.ushmm.org/outreach/nrule.htm>

This site is an outstanding source of information on Nazi rule in Europe between 1941 and 1945. This site is divided into sections on Nazi Rule, Jews in Germany, the "Final Solution," Nazi Camps, and Rescue and Resistance. The site also has listings for Key Dates, Artifacts, and a Glossary. Links are provided throughout the text and photos and maps detail the information.

Additional Sites to Find Information

Anne Frank Online

<http://www.annefrank.com>

This site created by the U.S. Anne Frank Center features Anne Frank's life and times, her famous diary, and the Holocaust in its content. The site also contains selections from the diary as well as a photo scrapbook.

HyperHistory Online

This site features a Timeline on the history of the Holocaust from 1918 to the present. Additional links in this guide include People, Arts, Activities, and Resources on the Holocaust

Thanks for using the Research/Computer Lab!

The Lab is available Periods 1, 2, 3, 4, 7, 8, and 9. Please return for any of your Internet research or word processing assignments.

Points to Consider

- Print resources should also be considered when doing research for your papers~use the school library
- Remember to follow all requirements given by Miss Geibel for page length, research guidelines, and due dates
- Not all information that you find on the Internet is reliable~document your sources
- Do not plagiarize!
- Internet searching and word processing take time~plan for this
- If you have any questions, please ask for assistance
